Child Support Awareness Month

Family bonding nurtures strong roots for children to ensure they feel empowered to accomplish their dreams for the future. When parents are positively involved in their children's lives they set the example for generations to come.

I want to thank all parents who are involved and dedicated to making sure they are a part of their children's growth. Whether by showing them how to throw a baseball, teaching them to give back to their community or simply by showing them how to be a good friend, these tools are what help children grow into good citizens.

During Child Support Awareness Month, I encourage all Californians to remember that we are role models to each and every child. We have the ability to positively impact and influence their young lives by the way we treat each other. Now more than ever we must give them something great to imitate.

Sincerely,

EDMUND G. BROWN JR.
